The development approach of CEE donors:
Priorities, actors and frameworks

15-16 of June, Cluj-Napoca, Romania

WORKSHOP:

New approaches in developing the International Development MA curricula

Date and time: Sunday, 15th of June 2014; between 16:00-17:00

Teaching international development at either graduate or undergraduate level in Romania is challenging. From the difficult recruiting of specialized human resource to the actual lack of experience of the country itself as a donor, from the difficulties of persuading students to enroll when job prospects in the field are few (in Romania) to the structural limitations of the Romanian higher education system - it seems that problems are everywhere. I invite you to talk openly on how we can all work our way beyond these problems and indeed, identify the success stories already unfolding in some of the MA programs in International Development in Romania.

Moderator:

Bogdan Radu, Babes-Bolyai University, Cluj-Napoca

Guest speakers:

- Robert Reisz, Western University of Timisoara
- Viorel Vizureanu, University of Bucharest
- Andreea Iancu, Al. I. Cuza University of Iasi
- Madalina Laura Cuciurianu, Al. I. Cuza University of Iasi
- Mihai Sebe, European Institute of Romania
